INTERMEDIATE - Can you find these these items around the house that could keep you safe around the water?

Staying safe around water

Whether at the beach, in the pool, or even around the house, it is always important to stay safe around water.

While swimming and playing around the water is great fun, there are lots of risks and hazards around if you are not careful.

Above all else, make sure you never swim alone and always have active adult supervision when around the water.

If you know what to look out for, it can help to avoid trouble so you can enjoy the water with friends and family.
